GET BUSY NOW

EVERY Republican newspaper should start now to point out the benefits this country has had under the Harding administration and to try to bring about such united sentiment as will make the re-nomination of Warren G. Harding unanimous, this done his election will be assured.

It should not be forgotten the present administration is still paying the bills of the Democratic party. An analysis of the expenditures of the current fiscal year shows the government has paid $133,000,000 on account of the railroad administration; $125,000,000 on account of the discount accruals of war savings securities of 1918; $127,000,000 on account of refunding internal revenue taxes illegally collected during the years 1917, 1918, and 1919. There are other items of smaller amounts. In the aggregate all amount to over $400,000,000. If it were not for these hang-over obligations growing out of the war and the Democratic administration, the government books would show a handsome balance for the fiscal year just closing. As it is, it is going to show a balance, but one that will be very small.

APPROVE OF THEM

SOMEWHERE this page read a report of a pe tanimal show which, with a little transposition went on to ask who would not say a word for the pets of children? The nondescript pup, free of beauty and pedigree, but filled with play and devotion is deserving of some recognition. The care of children for animals, their pride in the dumb friends, and the lesson of kindness which the relationship teaches are accorded attention in all Children's Pet Exhibitions, like the one we are to have here in Ukiah next Saturday. The boy and his dog, the girl and her kitten, pigeons, guinea pigs and the rest of the familiar pets will be judged not by their ancestry and aristocratic demeanor but by their worth as friends to the children. In the lists will be some strange animals from far places, some sleek and high-bred ones, and others who owe their origin and upbringing to the alley. They will all be together and with them the proud owners. It is to be hoped the father and mother of every boy and girl in Ukiah will be on hand to praise the efforts of the boys and girls and to urge them to be kind to dumb animals. The boy and girl who are humane when growing up become brave men, and gracious women in after life.

PRAISEWORTHY EFFORT

JUST at this time many of the newspapers about the state are carrying editorials along the line of good-fellowship. The editors, for some unknown reason, appear, all of a sudden, to have entered upon a campaign of helpfulness—trying to make life more worth while. This action does not appear to be directed from any central head, it is simply a chance united appeal by the men who get up the papers of the state. Surely this is a fine action. It doesn't pay to withhold a smile from those who happen to meet you, a little praise will aid a fellow who may be feeling world-worn and help given the down-and-outer ever has its own reward—Remember

"The thing that goes the farthest
Towards making life worth while;
That costs the least and does the most,
Is just a pleasant smile.
It's full of worth and goodness, too,
With genial kindness blent;
It's worth a million dollars,
And doesn't cost a cent."

CHANGED SOMEWHAT

"Bill," the poet gasped to his friend, I wrote a poem about my little boy and began with these words:

"My son, my pigmy counterpart,"

"Yes, yes?"

The poet drew a newspaper from his pocket.

"Read!" he blazed. "See what that compositor did to my opening line."

The friend read aloud: "My son, my pig, my counterpart."

YES, AND SOON

"The time will come," thundered the lecturer on women's rights, "when women will get men's wages."

"Yes," said a weak little man in the back seat, "next Saturday night!"—Pearson's Weekly (London.)

ADVICE FROM AN EXPERT

There used to be a ticket seller with the old Yankee Robertson circus who owned a big green parrot. The parrot's perch swung from the roof of the ticket wagon and there the bird would sit just above her owner's head.

The ticket man had a line of patter which he constantly chanted as the patrons surged in front of his wicket twice on each day of the season—before the afternoon performance and again before the evening performanance.

"Don't shove, friends!" he would say. "Don't crowd! Take your time. Give everybody a chance!"

The parrot memorized this speech. She even learned to mimic her master's exact tone. Repeating his admonition was a favorite part of her repertoire.

One afternoon when business was over he went away, forgetting to close the slide on his window. When he returned a little later his pet was gone. Immediately he organized a search party to find the truant bird.

Half a mile distant from the show lot, in a field, he found Poll. She was reared back on the ground practically featherless. About her circled and swirled a great flock of crows crawing joyously. Every instant nearly, one of the crows, twisting out of the circle, would dart down and pluck a souvenir of green plumage from the disheveled alien.

And each time this happened poor Poll, in a beautiful imitation of her owner's voice and accent would shriek out: "Don't shove, friends! Don't crowd! Take your time! Give everybody a chance!"

HOUSE DIVIDED

Some years ago there were in Paris two papers, the Razor and the Scorpion, which were always attacking each other.

Every week people bought the Razor to read how it cut at the Scorpion, and then purchased the Scorpion to learn how it stung the Razor.

A certain philanthropist, feeling pained to see such animosity displayed, invited the two editors to dine, in the hope that over good fare he could make peace between them. At the appointd time one lean, melancholy man presented himself and was ushered in. After an interval, as no other guest appeared, the host demanded:—

"May I ask, are you the editor of the Razor or the Scorpion?"

"Both," said the sad-eyed man.—Sheffield (Eng.) Telegraph.

THE LURE OF THE LIMELIGHT

Mike Cunningham, who was an interesting Chicago character, got a job as stagehand at a vaudeville theatre. In his first week it fell to him to don a policeman's uniform, and at the conclusion of one of the scenes in a comedy sketch he chased a comedy tramp across the stage, meanwhile brandishing a big club.

On Wednesday night he went to the dressing room of the comedian and said, "Say, do me a favor—will you?"

"What is it?" asked the actor.

"When I chase you acrost the stage tonight let me ketch you and beat you up. Me goil's out front!"

CAUSE OF DOUBT

There was an all-round good-for-nothing man who died, and at his funeral the minister delivered a most beautiful address, eulogizing the departed in the most glowing manner, praising his splendid qualities as a fine type of man, a good husband and kind parent.

About this time the widow, who was seated well up in front, spoke to her little daughter by her side, and said, "My dear, go look in the coffin and see if it is your father."—The Universal Leader (Boston).

THE DIFFERENCE

A teacher was conducting a lesson in history.

"Tommy Jones," she said, "what was there about George Washington which distinguished him from all other famous Americans?"

"He didn't lie," was the prompt answer.—Ligourian.

THE BEST CLINGERS

the BEST OIL

WESTERN CRUDE

The motorist who pays fancy prices for oil, often pays for something he does not get.

Zerolene costs less because it is produced in California from selected California naphthenic crude, which, of all the crudes so far discovered, yields the most efficient lubricating oils.

Zerolene lubricates better. It forms from 25% to 50% less carbon. It has greater adhesiveness and penetration than oils made from any other crude.

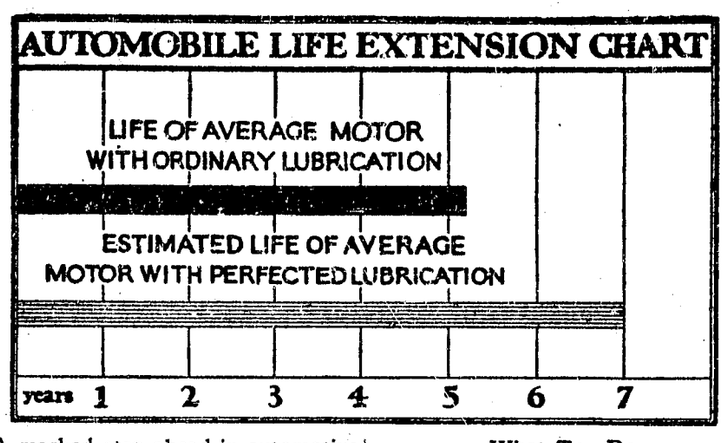
OIL COMPANY CHART SHOWS WHY AUTOMOBILES DIE EARLY



A marked step ahead in automotive progress has been made recently by the Associated Oil Co., makers of Cycol Motor Oil.

Realizing the tremendous economic loss caused by rapid engine depreciation, this company conducted a national investigation into the underlying reasons why so few motorists get the full life from their cars.

The results developed the outstanding fact that, while automobile manufacturers have made amazing advances in improving car construction, car owners themselves have failed to give their cars the attention required in order to realize the greater life and value that is built into today's automobiles.

The Associated Oil Company went to the highest courts of automotive authority in its research. It learned that the average life of all cars and trucks is exactly five and three-tenths years.

Should Be Larger

Leading engineers the country over estimated that, with perfected lubrication, car life could easily be extended by one-third years, the present average, to seven years, as it is a well known fact that 75% to 80% of engine troubles are due to engine and lubricating troubles. This increase is charted in graphic form on the "Automobile Life Extension Chart," just issued by the Associated Oil Company.

What To Do

There are three important steps in securing perfected lubrication as recommended by automotive engineers and the Associated Oil Company. They are:

1. Clean the crank case thoroughly every 500 to 1000 miles and when changing from one brand of motor oil to another.

2. Flush the crank case only with fresh lubricating oil of the grade used in service—never with kerosene or so-called "flushing" oils.

3. Lubricate with the grade of Cycol—the perfected motor oil, as shown on the Cycol Recommendation Chart.

It has been the practice among many motorists to keep their cars only a year or two and then trade in for new cars. With the advanced methods of securing perfected lubrication, as outlined by the Associated Oil Company, it is expected that car owners will be able to economically operate their cars for a much longer period. At any rate, the figures of five and three-tenths-years' service with ordinary lubrication and seven years' service with perfected lubrication apply relatively to any car—no matter how long the owner keeps it.

the owner keeps it. ***

Rains Hampered, - Many Worshipped

It being too rainy to go to "The Firs," as was first planned for Easter service, about 90 people from all churches and no church gathered in the Christian church where a most inspiring service was held from 6:30 to 7:30 a. m. After this service the Loyal Climbers S. S. class had breakfast at the church.

Worshippers Were Liberal

At 9:45 a. m. 219 came to the Bible school when a most enthusiastic service was held and when the offering for benevolence was counted it was found $200.33 was given. The Loyal Hustlers won in the contest with the Loyal Climbers class and in due time the losing side will banquet the winners.

The 11 o'clock service was largely attended when Mr. Shropshire preached from the subject: "A Question That Will Not Down." One lady was baptized at this service.

Went To Talmage

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a service was held at the State Hospital, as a prelude to the service the orchestra gave a delightful concert.

The evening service at the church was given over to the Bible school and a splendid entertainment was had. The decorations were very pretty, especially the electric cross which was not only original but pretty and became doubly effective when all lights were turned out but those on the cross and little Miss Verl Patton sang one of the cross songs.

Ukiah Men Are Outstanding Figures

The Ingleside Community church San Francisco, will be formally dedicated April 8, at which time Hon. John L. McNab will be the speaker of the day—talking on "Fellowship Service." The structure cost approximately $50,000 and Ukiah residents will have an interest in it when it is stated Jos. A. Leonard, of Ukiah, known as the man who "Built 1000 of San Francisco's Best Homes," was the one who designed the church and on top of this Ukiah's own John L. McNab makes the main address at its dedication. Another item worth mentioning, because it centers around a local man, is that the acoustics in the Community church are said to be as near perfect as possible to get them. Architect Leonard too, is reponsible for this. Two men, both somewhat hard of hearing, at a recent service sat a considerable distance from the pulpit and afterwards declared they were able to hear exceptionally well.

Building Ukiah Church

Architect Leonard is in charge of the construction of St Mary's Catholic church in Ukiah and everyone looks forward to the completion of the structure, appreciating it will be a handsome edifice and one that will fill the wants of the parish perfectly for years to come.

DIZZINESS IS ANNOYING

As Many Ukiah People Know Too Well

When the kidneys are weak or disordering, they fall behind in filtering the blood of poisons. As these poisons attack the nerves, the result is felt in spells of vertigo, just as drunkenness will make a man dizzy from the poisoning of alcohol. Dizziness, headache and irregularity of the kidney secretions are all signs of weak or disordered kidneys and should not be neglected. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the home-endorsed kidney remedy. Read this Ukiah resident's statement:

Mrs. B. M. Davidson, 320 E. Perkins St., says: "I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys. They acted irregularly and I had severe backaches. I could hardly keep going and suffered from headaches and dizzy spells most of the time. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and got some at Gibson's Drug Store and they fixed me up in good shape. The backache left and my kidneys were strengthened. I have great confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills and always recommend them."

RANCHMAN GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

So many people have testified to using Tanlac with splendid results following influenza, and other troubles that result in a run-down condition, that it has become universally recognized as the most powerful reconstructive tonic of the present day.

Among the thousands of California people who have realized the value of Tanlac is James M. Alfter, retired ranchman, 224 Columbia St., Los Angeles, Cal., who gives out the following statement:

"The 'flu' left me with such a bad case of stomach trouble and in such a run-down condition that I even went to Hot Springs in an effort to recuperate. Gas pains, after eating, and pains all through my body were hard to bear. My nerves and bladder bothered me also, I couldn't get any sleep to speak of.

"A friend advised me to take Tanlac, and the treatment just seemed to tone up my whole system. My appetite came back strong, the pains completely left me, and I sleep like a log every night now."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

RAIN ON THE COAST WAS NEEDED—ALL RIGHT NOW

Antone Stornetta, of Point Arena, was here Sunday to take part in the Masonic observance of Easter and returned home by auto Monday. Mr. Stornetta said the weather on the coast had been so dry, up to the time he left, it had been impossible to plough and that the situation had become very serious, however, the fine rains which prevailed Sunday and Monday made it certain the drouth had been broken and the crops of the fall were now out of danger.

HAD FAMILY DINNER

Easter dinner was enjoyed in the form of a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dreyer by the following members of the family from San Francisco and Ukiah: Mrs. J. P. Fitzgerald, Miss Irene Dreyer and Mrs. J. R. Stotes, of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sandelin and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dreyer. Pretty table decorations and a bountiful repast were features of the happy occasion.
